Dear [REDACTED]

On behalf of the Admissions Committee, it is my pleasure to offer you admission to the MIT Class of 2027! You stood out as one of the most talented and promising students in one of the most competitive applicant pools in the history of the Institute. Your commitment to personal excellence and principled goals has convinced us you will both contribute to our diverse community and thrive in our academic environment. We think that you and MIT are a great match.

You have until May 1, 2023 to let us know if you'll call MIT your home for the next four years. Until then, we look forward to helping you get to know us better. We are excited to invite you to join us in Cambridge for Campus Preview Weekend (CPW), April 13–16, 2023. CPW is one of the most fun and informative ways to discover all that MIT has to offer! We will share more details with you over the coming months.

MIT's mission is to educate students in science, technology, and other areas of scholarship, to best prepare them to solve the world's greatest challenges. Make no mistake, the rigor here is real, but so is the excitement of discovery, both inside and outside the classroom. The ways that students collaborate and help each other, especially in these unprecedented times, are varied and many.

I hope you'll agree with us that MIT is the perfect place to prepare for your future. As a member of our community, you'll join builders, scholars, entrepreneurs, and humanitarians. Together, you will make a true difference in a world that desperately needs you.

Many congratulations, best wishes for a wonderful—and safe—holiday season, and welcome to MIT! Now stop reading this and go celebrate!

Warmly,

Stuart Schmill
Dean of Admissions and Student Financial Services
